My First Steiff — Girl

Steiff "My First Steiff" Collection

HISTORY

Steiff, the German plush toy maker founded by Margarete Steiff in 1880 and credited with helping originate the teddy bear itself, has long produced a "My First Steiff" line specifically designed as an extra-soft, huggable, washable bear safe for infants and young children — distinct from Steiff's traditional mohair collector bears, which are typically display pieces rather than toys. This "girl" version, finished with a pink bow or ribbon, was designed as a keepsake first bear, often given as a birth or christening gift.

NOTABLE INFORMATION

- ◆ Maker: Steiff, Germany
- ◆ Line: "My First Steiff" collection
- ◆ Girl version, pink bow/ribbon detailing
- ◆ Extra-soft plush, designed for infants/young children
- ◆ Condition: good, tags present

COLLECTOR NOTES

"My First Steiff" bears are a more accessible, huggable counterpart to Steiff's traditional collector mohair bears, and are popular as sentimental keepsake gifts. Values stay modest compared to Steiff's vintage mohair pieces (like the Harlekin bear already in this collection), but examples retaining their Steiff button/tag in clean condition hold steady demand.
