HISTORY

The K & K Toy Company, Inc. was founded in New York City in 1915 as an importer of bisque doll heads manufactured in Germany, which the company then finished and marketed with cloth or composition bodies under its own "K & K" mark. Some of the firm's bisque heads have been attributed to the German porcelain factory Alt, Beck & Gottschalck. Hazel is a 15" example of this line, featuring a bisque shoulder head impressed "K & K, No. 49" at the back of the shoulder plate, a cloth body, and original brown mohair-style wig. She is shown here in the dress documented at the time of her original sale listing — a pink dress with smocked bodice detail, lace collar, and period shoes and stockings — though she has since been dressed in different clothing.

NOTABLE INFORMATION

- ◆ Bisque shoulder head impressed "K & K, No. 49"
- ◆ Cloth body construction, 15" tall
- ◆ Original brown hair wig, painted facial features
- ◆ Pictured in original sale-listing outfit: pink smocked-bodice dress, lace collar, period shoes and stockings; currently dressed differently

COLLECTOR NOTES

K & K Toy Company dolls are a recognized and collectible category among American-marketed German bisque dolls of the 1915-1925 era. Values are driven by completeness of original wig and clothing, condition of the bisque (no cracks or repairs), and the specific mold number — Hazel benefits from a clear, legible mold mark, which is a solid plus for collector interest even with her current change of dress.
