A Pair of Handmade Genuine Mink Fur Animals — Bear & Bunny

MINK FUR TEDDY BEAR & BUNNY

Handcrafted from Genuine Mink Fur — Artist-Made Keepsake Animals

This pair consists of a 17" teddy bear and a roughly 10" bunny rabbit, each hand-sewn from genuine mink fur repurposed from recycled vintage mink coats — a craft popularized by fur restylers and artist bear-makers who give old coats, jackets, and stoles new life as keepsake plush animals rather than letting them sit unworn in a closet. Both pieces show the soft, dense pile and natural sheen characteristic of genuine mink, with visible suede/leather pelt backing at the paw pads and ear.

Mink Fur Teddy Bear — 17"

Cream/blonde mink fur, jointed limbs, suede paw pads, embroidered nose & mouth detail

$85 – $200

Mink Fur Bunny — ~10"

Dark brown/black mink fur, lop ear with suede lining, glass eyes

$50 – $125

ITEM	DESCRIPTION	EST. VALUE
Mink Fur Teddy Bear	17", cream mink, jointed limbs	$85 – $200
Mink Fur Bunny	~10", dark mink, lop ear detail	$50 – $125
Combined Estimated Value		$135 – $325

Honest Disclosure: No artist tag, label, or maker signature was visible in the photographs provided, so these are being valued as unsigned handmade genuine-mink keepsake animals rather than attributed to a specific fur-bear artist. Both pieces were confirmed made from recycled vintage mink coats rather than new fur, which is standard practice in this craft and does not diminish quality or value — the mink pelts themselves are simply given a second life. It's worth noting this market has two very different price points: commissioning a NEW custom piece from an artist (using a customer's own coat) commonly runs $135–300+, since that price reflects the maker's labor and the sentimental "your coat, your memory" service — but on the secondary/resale market, already-made pieces without a personal ownership story typically sell for considerably less, which is reflected in the ranges above. Values assume the fur is genuine mink (not faux) and both pieces are free of bald patches, tears, or pest damage.
